About Porch View Dances

'Real People Dancing in Real Spaces'

Porch View Dances (PVD) is an award-winning community dance festival that engages everyday people as creators, storytellers and performers – many of whom have never danced before. Audience members travel from house to house to see new dance works created by professional choreographers and performed by families and friends on porches, front yards, and driveways. PVD was designed to celebrate the stories of neighbourhood residents and to bridge the gap between professional art and everyday people. Our live Tour Guide journeys audiences through the streets bringing dance out of the theatre and into our daily lives. PVD has taken place in-person across Ontario with events in Ottawa, Kitchener, and with Lakeshore Arts in Long Branch, New Toronto, and Mimico in South Etobicoke. In 2020, Porch View Dances went online for the first time and reached people across Canada, and internationally. Our 10th anniversary continues to bring together artists and community participants to make dance art for public viewing and participation. PVD engages 'real people dancing in real spaces' and in this way sends the strong and powerful message that art is for everyone.

Land Acknowledgement

As we meet today on a virtual platform, Kaeja d'Dance would like to acknowledge the Indigenous Peoples of all the lands that we inhabit today, and that we call home. Take a moment to feel your feet on the ground, breathe and imagine the soil that lays beneath. Our home is situated on Treaty 13 territory. This land has been the site of human activity for over 15,000 years. Tkaronto, "where the trees meet the water"; "The gathering place" of many nations: the Wendat, the Haudenosaunee, and the Anishinaabe, including the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. We are grateful to be here virtually with all of you across many traditional territories and we welcome and honour the responsibility that comes with the opportunity to live, work, learn and play on this land. Please join us in reflecting and acknowledging the harms and mistakes of the past and to consider how we are and can, each in our own way, move forward in a spirit of reconciliation and collaboration.

Curator's Statement

As I write this, I am sitting in my home - a familiar site for so many of us in recent times.

The relationship to our own personal living spaces has shifted dramatically, and our understanding of 'home' has forever changed.

For some of us, our home is the physical space that we inhabit - the spot where we rest our heads at night, and for others, it's a place far away that conjures nostalgic memories. Perhaps it's our birthplace or where we grew up... or the place where we feel most safe and seen and able to express the fullness of who we are.

As I approach my work with Porch View Dances in this momentous 10th anniversary season, I am drawn to this expansive idea of 'home', with the acknowledgement that everyone's living spaces are wonderfully different and we each have agency to define 'home' for ourselves.

Each artist (new to Porch View Dances this year) proposes a unique vision of 'home' through their choreographic film offering, highlighting and revealing the effectual presence, absolute bravery, and distinct beauty of each community participant, through movement.

I am reminded of the original impulse for Porch View Dances, designed by Karen Kaeja in 2012 - a desire to uncover the day-to-day interior lives of our neighbors and community, consciously guiding those stories outdoors, joyously spilling out onto porches, lawns, and sidewalks through live dance performance.

We have just begun to collectively emerge from our homes to gather, celebrate, and dance together. As we tentatively move into this new space, I am hopeful that this collection of choreographic films will inspire, uplift, and remind us all of the power and potency of art and dance, to bring us together in difficult times.

Welcome Note

Welcome to a dream that began 10 years ago. A passion project that shares narratives and brings people together, Porch View Dances sparks a smile to my whole being. I am over the moon and honoured that our colleague Michael Caldwell has brought his curatorial magic, vision and impeccable directorship to PVD10. Spreading its wings throughout Toronto this year, PVD10 moves inward to the heart unleashing stories in multiple locations and neighbourhoods representing home. Thinking about the pulse that lies within a dwelling and how dance can envelop a distinct vitality to reflect the unique voices of a family or its inhabitants, Porch View Dances continues to bring you its signature Vignettes and audience participatory Flock Landing. I am incredibly grateful to the 500+ people who have brought their love and talent in so many ways to the shaping of PVD over the past decade, and of course to the audiences and our supporters. Allen and I wholeheartedly welcome the extraordinary 2021 commissioned Toronto artists - choreographers and filmmakers, and community participants to Porch View Dances, who all dove into the joy of creation. I invite you into their enchanting artistic gems that expose, inspire and give insight to a city's humanity through brave inner dialogue transposed to moving gestures, sharing their personal interiors with us all. Warm and real, the short films offer a new expression of today, a freedom within our ephemeral artform, yet a visible imprint that can be revisited, as films - a legacy of dances and people in this moment.

The dance artists, filmmakers, participants, Kd'D staff, crew and volunteers have ELEVATED this year's presentation. I would also like to thank Karen for her incredible intuition and passion. Karen's belief in our community to elevate and support both professional artists and community members crosses all boundaries and peoples. Thank you, Karen for your most incredible farsightedness. You have always had our community as an essential part of your imagination and you continue to be a visionary in our dance world. I love you.*

Featured Sound - Life by Roa

Filmed in Ajax, Ontario

Special thanks - to Michael Caldwell, for trusting me to do this work, to Aria Evans, for her openness and perspective, and to the Gupta Family, for letting me into their world. - AN Description: This is the story of abundant and eternal love. The love of oneself, of one's partner and of one's children. This is a story of a family that works, plays, laughs and cries together. I am attempting to highlight the beauty in simple moments and the complexities in familial relationships. This work is being filmed at a time when Pritha, Manu and the kids are moving from one house to another. It's been interesting to discuss the idea of what home is to them. Since this is a piece about a family, the word "home" describes a place where all 4 of them live together. Under one roof.

World Premiere

Choreography and Performance - Ravyn Wngz

Direction - Allen Kaeja and Ravyn Wngz

Camera - Allen Kaeja

Sound Editing - Jake Runeckles

Filmed at Harbourfront Centre in Toronto, Ontario

Special thanks - to Michael, Allen and Karen for inviting me into this project, offering me an opportunity to share my work. I am honoured and grateful. - RW

Description: As a dancer, home has always been my body, however as an Afro-Indigenous 2Spirit Trans woman who experiences constant violence and vitriol, the practice of leaving my body has been a way to navigate safety. I chose Harbourfront as the site for my work because it reminds me of returning to self, to land, to home, to water. I immediately thought of slavery, and as a descendant of stolen people, home has had to be our community, our family, our body. I wanted to showcase all of this in my burlesque performance for PVD, and honour Harriet Tubman, the conductor, the Mad Black Woman who helped free our people and inspire generations after her to "keep going". My work details the navigation of safety due to the intersections of my identities. I am the Black Widow of Burlesque, I chose this title to be a reminder of everything that has happened before, and that is happening now. To be a reflection and a hammer to represent the legacy of Trans women in our revolutions and, through Afro-futurism and speculative fiction, help carve and shape new ways of being in relationship to one another that reduce harm and offer global collective care.

Home 2 - THRESHOLD

World Premiere

Filmed in Parkdale, Wychwood, and Humewood-Cedarvale in Toronto, Ontario

Special thanks - to the artists for their generous work, to Kaeja and PVD for continuing to bring dance into the community, to the funders and supporters who keep us going. - SP

Description: THRESHOLD is a triptych of dances - three solos - that deal with the experience of passage from one state - or place - to another. Following on our research of 'porches' - from Porch View Dances - we learned about the porch as a point of transition, a place to pause between things - and explored what it was like to transition from one state - or location - into another. Three distinct characters / women experience the thresholds of their environments and find comfort and strength in their quiet transformations.

Filmed at Tiffany Falls in Ancaster, Ontario

Special thanks - to mami for taking me back to a land that lives so loudly in my body and that carries so many stories of resistance. - IV

Description: The story of La Siguanaba always impacted me as a child. This story that is meant to ignite fear, to me ignited admiration. She is strong, she is shifting, she protects herself, she teaches lessons, she is fearless... she is me, she is us... she is my land. This piece is about reclaiming the stories that I was exposed to as a child. Shape shifting spirits that now, to me, represent resistance.

Camera - Allen Kaeja

Creative Consultant - Katherine Duncanson

Featured Sound - Original music composition by Sashar Zarif

Filmed in Thornhill, Ontario

Special thanks - to Allen Kaeja for collaboration, PVD, my lute (Dutar of Uzbekistan), my mother, grandmother for being my earth and the air, land and the sky of the guest house I reside in today. - SZ

Description:

"This being human is a guest house.
Every morning a new arrival.

A joy, a depression, a meanness, some momentary awareness comes
as an unexpected visitor.

Welcome and entertain them all!
Even if they're a crowd of sorrows,
who violently sweep your house
empty of its furniture,
still, treat each guest honorably.
He may be clearing you out
for some new delight.

The dark thought, the shame, the malice,
meet them at the door laughing,
and invite them in.

Description (Cont):

Be grateful for whoever comes,
because each has been sent
as a guide from beyond."

Rumi - Translated by Coleman Barks

Jingling ears and wandering eyes are what you need to witness my story. For me home is where I can be the story, not tell a story. Not a place to settle, but a place to flow. Home for me is not a place, rather it is a state of being where I can exist here and now, not remembering the past, nor preparing for the future. Home is where the past has found its peaceful place in the present. As a human, I am a traveler, the guest in this body and on this earth. Therefore, home is where I exist in the reality of each moment. Free of defining the time and place. Free of castles and clocks. In fact, home for me is the silence between the ticks of a clock.

Home 3 - *social reconnection/reintegration\dance in a (lowkey) tiktokified world

World Premiere

Choreography - Rodney Diverlus

Direction / Camera / Editing - Olya Glotka

Dancers - Cianan Liburd and Kiké Otuije

Featured Sound - Fresh New Prince by Simon Jomphe

Filmed in King West Village in Toronto, Ontario

Description: I wanted to explore 'home' as it relates to our physical and intimate relationships. Outside of the brick and mortar of a 'home', how do we find home through each others' bodies? Those with whom we share intimate pasts, deep connections, and trust. In this time of reopening and reconnection, we are reacquainting our body relation to those around us; those we want to hug, to touch, to play with, to rub up on; relationships between old friends where there's comfort and ease; where things just 'click'. Social and vernacular dance is deeply embedded into the vocabulary of Black diasporic communities; embedded in our DNA from before the middle passage. Before there was TikTok, there were town gatherings with moving bodies; public bacchanals. Drawing on social dances or past and present, from the Cha Cha Slide, to Lindy Hop, to a Whine & Jerk, we used an eclectic palette of dance that made us feel good. Unabashed liberation. This dance is not for you; it's for us.

Community Participants

Katherine Duncanson

Katherine Duncanson has been involved in the performance of music, dance and theatre for many decades and had the pleasure of creating with and/or being an interpreter in the works of many of Canada's most renowned performing artists. She is also a Creative Facilitator/ Director for musicians, theatre artists and dance artists. Katherine has performed across Canada, in the US, Amsterdam and Jamaica; in 3000 seat theatres, and in rooms just for one; in parks and parking lots; in oceans and art galleries; on rafts, on rooftops, in tree tops, tents and canoes; in bathtubs, on a scooter, under rocks, soaked by rain and surrounded by fire.

Manu Gupta, Pritha Roy Chowdhury, Roshin and Vinash

As parents to a family of five who are curious and adventurous, Manu and Pritha are trying to encourage their boys to try and venture outside of their comfort zones. For Pritha, experimenting with Porch View Dances is like a homecoming, returning to dance after many years. For Manu, this is new and uncomfortable. But when the opportunity came up, they seized it, to show the boys that there is so much adventure and learning if they can approach new experiences with curiosity.

Cianan Liburd

Enmeshed in the arts at a young age, Cianan explores his blackness and queerness through activism and artistic mediums such as painting, drawing and performance. He's worked in branding and communications for the last 4 years and enjoys the collaborative nature of the work, which allows him to flex his creative muscles. He first heard about PVD through his friend and eventual choreographer. Cianan is excited to, through dance, tell the story of two souls' return to one another after a gruelling year of separation, isolation and self-determination, and the reawakening of their bond, simply at the sight of a loved one.

Catherine Marrion

Catherine Marrion is an expressive arts therapist and voice coach who long ago made theatre in San Francisco, B.C. and Toronto, and then taught voice and movement for decades at Humber's Theatre Performance Program. Having seen and experienced the transformative power of making art, she became an expressive arts therapist so she could accompany others on that path. In addition to her private practice, she continues as a voice coach, mostly with dancers, as her somatic training and embodied approach seem to support their work. What a pleasure to work with Sara Porter – lucky me! -- and how amazing to be part of Porch View Dances, which is such a perfect way to celebrate dance and community.

To the Street, Bike, and Hub Squads, the neighbours, the families, our board, and to everyone who has given their time to support Porch View Dances, thank you. Without you, all of this would not have been possible. We apologize to anyone we have missed in the list below; it is but a small snapshot of some of the treasured people who have gathered to make PVD what it is over the years.
